

Domaine des Hâtes Chablis

Petit Chablis 2013

What good Petit Chablis should be and is, from this newcomer of the Maligny Laroche clan. Leafy, aromatic, with a fine friendly fruit profile, up a notch in the crystalline, pure 2013 style. Delicious wine for early drinking. Pas si petit.

16 points—Michael Edwards, The World of Fine Wine, Issue 47, 2015

Chablis 2013

A village with a lot here for your dollar. Dense, with mineral strength, one can almost eat the wine right now. But it also has an upright propelling energy and tension that should shine, given 9 months in bottle. Will go higher.

16.5 points— Michael Edwards, The World of Fine Wine, Issue 47, 2015

Chablis 1er Cru L'Homme Mort 2013

One of the choicest lieux-dits of Fourchaumes, close to the grands crus, benefiting from a sunny southwest aspect. Considerable richness and core, orchard fruits, pear, and peach, as well as citrus. A keeper. Gastronomic wine. Exceptional.

17 points— Michael Edwards, The World of Fine Wine, Issue 47, 2015